

Restoring Integrity in Baptist Churches By John S. Hammett And intriguing systematic approach that can be appreciated for churches who view the sacrificial anti-hypocritical nature of church to be the highest level of witness to those who do not know God. The book is footnoted throughout but some the historical scholarship is questionable due to the fact that some authors ignore examples from Baptist history that don't support their respective points. An example from one author is to have church members sign a membership document every three years saying they want to continue as members and those who don't sign it would be dropped from membership. 0825441137 Restoring Integrity in Baptist Churches features notable contributors on the key issues in many local churches especially within the Southern Baptist Convention America's largest Protestant denomination. 0825441137 Restoring Integrity in Baptist Churches features notable contributors on the key issues in many local churches especially within the Southern Baptist Convention America's largest Protestant denomination,

A very in depth view of Baptist ecclesiology with an appeal for correction to traditional biblical church structure. Authors believe membership baptism the Lord's supper and church discipline have all been watered down for the sake of cultural convenience, 0825441137 This is a compilation of essays written by Southern Baptists about what it means to be a Baptist, There are sections on church membership church government baptism communion and one essay on the priesthood of the believer: It does a good job explaining what most Baptists especially those from the nineteenth century until today have believed: Also some of the suggestions made for restoring Baptist churches should be ignored: Nevertheless if one wants to know what what distinguishes Baptists from others it is a valuable book, Some of the contributors include Mark Dever (on church membership); Daniel Akin (on baptism); Emir Caner (on the Lord's Supper); Gregory Wills (on church discipline); and Malcolm B: Pastors and church leaders will find here a timely resource for important theological questions; students training for the ministry will gain a practical guide. Some of the contributors include Mark Dever (on church membership); Daniel Akin (on baptism); Emir Caner (on the Lord's Supper); Gregory Wills (on church discipline); and Malcolm B, Pastors and church leaders will find here a timely resource for important theological questions; students training for the ministry will gain a practical guide. This is not Scriptural. Yarnell III (on the priesthood of all believers). Yarnell III (on the priesthood of all believers). Restoring Integrity in Baptist Churches

